Dependent Care Reimbursement Account

What is a Dependent Care Reimbursement Account?

A Dependent Care Reimbursement Account (DCRA) allows you to set aside money from your paycheck pretax to pay child day care expenses and, in some cases, elder care expenses. When you pay less in taxes, you have more money in your pocket. Most people save at least 30 percent on each dollar set aside pretax.

How much can I contribute to my DCRA?

Your contribution limit is determined by your tax filing status.

Tax filing status	Limit
Married, filing separately	$3,750
Single, head of household	$7,500
Married, filing jointly	$7,500

What types of expenses qualify?

Eligible expenses are those incurred while you and your spouse, if married, work or are looking for work. This can include: day care; general purpose day camps (overnight camp is not eligible); regular babysitting; before and after school care; nursery or preschool; and pre-kindergarten expenses. The plan allows you to incur eligible expenses during the plan year and for 2 ½ months after the end of the plan year.

Does a DCRA impact the tax credit on my income tax return?

You cannot claim a tax credit for amounts contributed to your DCRA. However, you may be able to claim a tax credit for amounts, up to IRS limits, not contributed to your DCRA.
